Each and every project is different. So is every crew. That's why it doesn't make sense to staff a team or use the same photographer and crew for every type of job. At VODA Studios, we work with you to identify exactly what you need. And then we build the team best suited to get the job done. When you work with us, you have access to the full range of talent we've assembled. We don't just pick up someone's business card and add it to our Rolodex. We carefully pick and choose who gets to work with us. If someone's not good enough to work with us, they're definitely not good enough to work with you.

CREWS, PEOPLE AND EXPERIENCE

VODA Studios maintains the largest pool of proven photographers, stylists, producers and assistants from around the country. And we'll work with you to identify and assemble the best possible crew for your particular creative project. You can take comfort in knowing there's nothing we haven't seen or done. We're ready for anything. We know what works, what doesn't. And we built this place accordingly.

Mixing and matching talent from every discipline affords incredible flexibility and responsiveness. We've got photographers with years of experience and know-how working alongside today's best young talent. We've got an array of experience working with major national clients, from retailers to ad agencies, to in-house marketing departments and editorial houses. We understand their specific needs and challenges. And we're uniquely designed to meet those challenges and exceed expectations.

People throw the word “digital” around a lot, but what does it really mean? At VODA Digital it means using the latest equipment and technology to ensure your project meets the strictest standards for both print and digital distribution. We know what digital means because we’re helping set the standard. Our research and development division works in conjunction with industry leaders beta-testing new technologies long before they’re available anywhere else. So when we meet your specific needs and workflow situation with a custom configuration, profile or application, you’ll know it’s the best technology available. And when you see it in the studio it’ll be right the first time.

DIGITAL CAPTURE

With VODAcapture™, we offer the most complete set of digital packages and services in the northwest. We’re constantly upgrading our equipment. We’ve got all the tools—including the latest packages with digital backs from Leaf & Phase One, and Canon DSLR’s—and our expert techs can handle whatever the most demanding shoot has to offer, in studio or anywhere around the world. Visit vodastudios.com for more information of packages and pricing.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

What do you do with the hundreds, often thousands of shots taken at multiple remote locations? How do you best make sure each picture looks like it’s for the same campaign? How do you get the creative input you need from someone not on the shoot? And what about client approval?

We measure our ability to handle your assets in terabytes. Our servers are huge. We back-up, archive and monitor your files 24/7. We store archives off-site for maximum security. We make sure lost or corrupted data is taken out of the picture. File access via the Web is password protected. Shots can be made available almost immediately for sharing with art directors, clients, whomever, to expedite the decision making process. We can quickly have contact sheets available on-set for client approval and make selects available for immediate retouching in the production suite.

RETOUCHING

VODA Studios offers full retouching services onsite to expedite the completion of your project. Our team of specialists has the technical expertise to color correct everything. We make sure every swatch matches its garment. We remove every blemish. We improve skin texture. We enhance and emphasize, improving existing images in every way. We can even create new images with whatever is captured. And we do it all at the highest possible resolution.

OBJECT VR

Object VR is where interactive and photography come together. The creative minds at VODA Studios and the R&D team at VODA Digital have developed a way to generate high quality interactive digital images your customers can zoom in on, pan or rotate— all at costs similar to traditional photography. Yes, it can be done. And it can be done well. See a demo online at vodastudios.com.

COLOR AUTHORIZING

Color Authoring is growing more and more popular in the digital space, but few companies are able to pull it off seamlessly. We happen to be one of them. Color Authoring makes it possible for you reduce photography and production costs. Your customers can interact with a single master image online, pointing and clicking on various texture and color options to see your product in a new way, fueling the purchasing decision.

CONSULTING

With an extensive background in retail, e-commerce and advertising photography, plus years of in-house studio consulting and development, VODA Studios is the perfect partner to help build a studio from the ground up or taking what you have now to the next level. No matter the challenge, whatever you need, we are the uniquely equipped solution. We can do it all—from negotiating equipment purchases to building the best photography and color workflows in the industry.

When you work with VODA Studios, your creative energy doesn't have to extend into coordinating production crews, securing locations, and making sure everyone is satisfied and where they need to be at any given time. We've got you covered—in Seattle, from New York to Los Angeles, and everywhere in between.

We take care of all the little things that can distract from your main objective. And we can provide you with a dedicated shoot producer—in studio or on location—to make sure everything from talent casting to catering goes off without a hitch.

CREWS ASSEMBLY

You don't want just any crew. You want the best crew. When our connections become your connections, the best is all you have to choose from. Our Studio & Location producers help you match talent to task. They handle everything that goes into putting your project together—assembling crew sheets, obtaining permits, making sure everyone knows where they're supposed to be, how to get there—everything.

ON LOCATION

There are plenty of obvious needs when shooting on location, some not-so-obvious ones too. VODA Production can handle both, working with VODA Locations as needed to secure your backdrop and making sure the location is outfitted with everything you'll need—from trailers to RV's and Porta-Pottys®.

CATERING SERVICES

VODA also works with the best restaurants and caterers in the region to offer in-studio and on-location catering services. We make sure the freshest ingredients are used to prepare everything from comfort food to ethnic gourmet. Our nutritious, innovative menu makes location catering another thing you never have to worry about.
